

A rectangular box containing approximately 20 horizontal black lines of varying lengths, representing the content of an email, including header and message body.

Email
(header + message)

Commande

A vertical list of four items, each consisting of a black dot followed by two horizontal lines of different lengths, representing the output data.

Dates + Confiance